WHEELER WILL CONTINUE DAUGHERTY PROBE DAWES REPORT IS GIVEN TO THE COMMISSION

INDICTMENT LENDS GREATER FORCE TO INQUIRY BY SENATE

Action Taken Against Prosecutor Fails to End Investigation

COMMITTEE HAS SECRET MEETING

Decision Is Reached to Go Ahead With Its Present Plans

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 9—Without dissenting vote, the senate today ordered a special committee of five of its members to investigate the charges made yesterday in a federal indictment returned in Montana against Senator Wheeler. Senator Wheeler himself, made the motion.

WASHINGTON, April 9—The senate committee appointed to investigate the department of justice and the official acts of Harry M. Daugherty, announced today its inquiry would proceed with full force, despite the indictment in Montana of the committee prosecutor Senator Wheeler.

After the meeting behind closed doors, the indictment returned against the Montana senator, was discussed at length, and afterwards Senator Brookhart made this statement:

"This investigation will proceed and proceed with a force and determination it has never shown before."

WASHINGTON, April 9—The republican national committee is behind the indictment just returned against him by a federal grand jury at Great Falls, Mont. Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana declared in denying the allegations.

Senator Wheeler's first impulse was to return to Montana at once and demand a speedy trial. But after consulting with his advisors, he announced that he will remain here a few days because there are certain matters regarding the Senate committee investigating the department of justice which demand his attention. He will decide within a few days whether he will return to Montana at once or wait until his case comes up for trial in the regular course.

Wheeler said it was his understanding that the foreman of the grand jury which indicted him, is chairman of the county republican central committee.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., April 9—United States Senator B. K. Wheeler was indicted by a federal grand jury here Tuesday on a charge of having accepted money as a retainer fee after he became United States Senator to influence the granting of oil land permits.

Gordon Campbell, noted in the western oil state as a geologist, and L. C. Stevenson, an oil operator and promoter, were indicted with Senator Wheeler.

Wheeler is technically charged with the violation of section 113 of the penal code.

Campbell and Stevenson who were the discoverers of the Sunburst-Kevin oil field in Montana are charged in a single indictment with using the mail to defraud.

Charles L. Blumhoff and F. D. Dailey, oil men, were indicted in a third separate indictment charged with sending fraudulent matter through the mails.

The size of the fee which it was alleged Senator Wheeler received was not stated officially, newspaper men being told by Department of Justice officials that it was $10,000.

The money was alleged to have been paid to Senator Wheeler as a member of the law firm of Wheeler and Baldwin of Butte and not as an individual.

The fee, it is charged was paid by Gordon Campbell, Stevenson and Campbell formerly were associates in the oil promotion business but later

SENATE WILL ACT ON SHOALS BEFORE STOPPING LEADER SAYS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 9—This Congress will never adjourn until it has voted on Ford's Muscle Shoals bid, a Senate leader declared. If opponents of the bid show any signs of obstructing a vote, the Ford supporters claim they have enough forces to bring the bid to the floor of the Senate and have it rejected or accepted.

The first step would be to have the Senate agriculture committee discharged from further consideration of the measure.

This step will not be necessary, in the opinion of proponents, who believe the committee will report the bid out without recommendation within the week, after public hearings are started on April 16.

Chairman Norris has reiterated that the committee has no intention to unnecessarily delay action on the Muscle Shoals bid. He predicted that one week would be sufficient time for the committee to arrive at some conclusion, but he and the majority of the committee members objected to an attempt by Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, to set a definite date for committee action.

The Southern delegation in the Senate is being flooded with propaganda both favorable and unfavorable to the Ford bid.

PLAN OF PAYMENT OF REPARATIONS IS FINISHED AT LAST

Report of Experts Who Have Worked on the Idea Finally Given

AMERICAN WILL FILL HIGH PLACE

Germany Must Have Freedom to Work Out
Her Problems

(Associated Press)

PARIS, April 9—The report of experts who have been engaged for the past three months in the task of ascertaining Germany's capacity to pay reparations, was handed the commission today.

The two committees, under the chairmanship of Brigadier General Dawes and Reginald McKenna, respectively, have gone deeply into the intricacies of the many problems connected with reparations and as mentioned in the covering letter, they approached the task as "business men" anxious to obtain effective results.

The League of Nations is drawn into the reparations problem by the Dawes report, while an unofficial representative of the United States is slated for an important role in the execution of the experts' plan.

An American member of the general board of control for the proposed new gold bank of issue is quite likely to fill the important post of commissioner. His duty will be to decide when Germany's capacity to pay has been reached, while the League finance committee will be asked to arbitrate if the commissioner's decisions in applying the index of prosperity are disputed by either Germany or allies.

A business matter, bereft of politics is how the experts describe the task they have just completed. They interpreted the object of their work as tending to the collection of the debt, rather than the application of penalties with a purely economic solution in view.

Recognizing the obligation of Germany to pay and declaring that she had resources with which to pay, the experts insist that if Germany does pay, she must have her hands free to exploit her economic resources.

The experts carefully omit in their report mention of the Ruhr, but make it plain that the French and Belgians must satisfy themselves by leaving garrisons in the Ruhr, if they see fit, but take their hands off the Ruhr and Rhineland railroads, if they see fit and the Ruhr industries.

PARIS, April 9—Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, the unofficial American representative on the first committee which examined into the economic and financial situation in Germany, in a covering letter to the report of his committee tells the reparations commission that the committee's recommendations "must be considered" not as inflicting penalties, but as suggesting means for assisting the economic recovery of all European peoples and the entry upon a new period of happiness and prosperity unmenaced by war.

In the covering letter of General Dawes he said in part follows:

"Since as a result of the war, the creditors of Germany are paying taxes to the limit of their capacity, so also must Germany be encouraged to pay taxes from year to year to the limit of her capacity. This is in accord with the just and underlying principle of the treaty of Versailles, reaffirmed by Germany in its note of May 29, 1919, that the German scheme of taxation must be 'fully as heavy proportionately as that of any of the powers represented on the commission.' More than this limit could not be expected and less than this would relieve Germany from the common hardship and give to her an unfair advantage on the industrial competition of the future."

STIRRING APPEAL IS GIVEN BY BATEMAN

The large auditorium of the Decatur Baptist church was crowded Tuesday night when Dr. R. J. Bateman spoke on "A Positive Attitude Towards God." His texts were 1 Corinthians 13:17 "Come ye out from among them and be ye separate." Matthew 12:20 "He that is not with me is against me," and he that gathereth not me scattereth." Joshua 24:15 "Choose you this day whom ye will serve." Exodus 26:35 "Who is on the Lord's side, let him come unto me."

At the morning hour Tuesday Dr. Bateman spoke on "A New Testament Revival" as exemplified in Acts 1 to 1. In part he said: "We must get down to bed rock. There are two sides to a complete redemption. There are two parts to the cross. Every man in every line of business should be a safe economist. Redemption is not complete until the economic side is preached. A man cannot give his heart to God and not give God his business. A redeemed economics will meet the rising tide of materialism."

"The rising tide of materialism is our greatest question. America can be perpetuated economically and socially only as we are spiritualized economically. Wealthy people wear clothes and buy automobiles today just to spend more than their neighbors. It's a serious thing to make money. The test of character is a man's attitude to money. If he is crooked with money he is not square anywhere. People who have money to waste are a social menace. When Christ saved my soul he saved the products of my brains, of my hands and of my muscles."

"Money is God's. It is dangerous to give it away. When you give $50.00 to a cause you have $50.00 stock in that cause. You are responsible to God for how you use every dollar. It's all God's. The Christian conception of property or ownership is that all is God's. I am looking after God's substance. All I have has been redeemed by the blood of Christ."

"Socialism is fellowship in property. Original Christianity was fellowship over property. Socialism is money for self, Christianity is money for a great cause. The spirit of early Christianity was one of entire consecration. Stewardship is from the Greek word which means house keeping. It is house keeping with God. God's man keeps store, or the bank or the farm with God. I belong to God and all I have belongs to him. We must be redeemed economically or not at all. 87 per cent of all the support for God's kingdom comes from men who make $5,000.00 or less per year. The wealthy give only 13 per cent of it. If the dollar gets between the rich man and God let him go. Preachers, do not let him get his fingers in your collar. Do not preach to please him. A New Testament Revival will be the redemption of the Spiritual and of the economic. Remember we are "Keeping House with God."

The revival will close with the Wednesday evening service if no announcement is made to the contrary at that time. The congregation is requested to come prepared to make an offering to supplement what the deacons have raised, Wednesday night.

Father of President Urges Hard Work.

JOHN C. COOLIDGE, FATHER OF PRESIDENT COOLIDGE.

Celebrating his 79th birthday at his little farm home at Plymouth, Vt., Colonel John C. Coolidge, father of President Coolidge, said "hard work and no worry" were essential to longevity. A birthday cake, specially baked at the White House, failed to arrive in time.

COTTON PRICES YET ON UPWARD CLIMB

(Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, April 9—Cotton futures advanced $5.00 a bale here this morning. The advance in prices during the past few days has reached $15 a bale. May contracts traded at 32.25 cents, or 93 points over yesterday's close.

The Dawes report helped the advance. All tenderable stock is now said to be in a few strong hands.

NEW YORK, April 9—Diminishing supplies caused another heavy buying movement in the cotton market today and May contracts jumped 70 points to 31.80, making fully $12 a bale advance in two days. Due to wet weather in southwest, new cotton months advanced about 30 points, October selling at 26.01.

JACKSONVILLE, Ala., April 8—The Jacksonville state normal school will hereafter issue no certificates to any students who smoke cigarettes, according to announcement by President Daugherty.

"ROAD TO HAPPINESS" PLEASES AT A PRIVATE SHOWING TODAY

"The Road to Happiness," a film showing the benefits of good roads, and the cast of which is headed by President Calvin Coolidge, pleased an audience of chamber of commerce guests at a private showing at the Princess theater this morning. A committee from the Pastor's Union witnessed the production and was enthusiastic in the praise accorded the film. Members of the committee were: Rev. A. N. Penland, Rev. J. D. Hunter, Captain Kearns of the Salvation Army (Rev. T. G. Mundy and W. H. Makin.

COOLIDGE HAS WON TWO MORE STATES

(Associated Press)
LINCOLN, Neb., April 9—Frank Harrison, campaign manager for Hiram Johnson in the Nebraska presidential preference primary, conceded victory to President Coolidge at 11 a. m.

CHICAGO, April 9—Illinois republicans added their endorsement of President Coolidge by giving him a majority over Hiram Johnson in yesterday's primary election, although the Californian, after a vigorous campaign, ran the President a close race in Chicago, where he helped found the progressive party, which nominated him for vice president several years ago.

W. G. McAdoo, unopposed for presidential preferential on the democratic ticket, polled only about half the votes cast by democrats in Chicago and his delegates to the national convention were defeated overwhelmingly by the state organization opposed to McAdoo.

Democrats nominated A. S. Sprague of Chicago, for United States senator, while Medill McCormick, republican incumbent, with two fifths of the vote in, was trailing former Governor Charles S. Deneen by 12,000 votes.

The hottest contest was for the republican gubernatorial nomination and Governor Len Small, who had been bitterly opposed by Attorney General E. J. Brundage, handily won the nomination for another term by defeating State Senator Essington.

CO-OPERATION OF MERCHANTS SHOWN

Cooperation of local merchants is shown vividly by the success of the arrangements for "Pride in Appearance Week," which begins Monday. It is expected the event will be one of the most successful civic stunts ever undertaken here and likely will be made an annual event.

Flushed with the success, so far, of that feature, merchants now are planning a cooperative "straw hat day" which will be announced soon.

The committee which has been handling the details for "Pride in Appearance Week" promise a number of interesting events for the next six day period. They will be made public during the course of this week and the early part of next week.

Dr. Penland in a statement, said: The "Road to Happiness" has my hearty approval. I witnessed the private showing at the Princess this morning.

"The propaganda of good roads is of the utmost importance, and no doubt will have a great bearing on the moral as well as the financial uplift of the country. I am strictly in favor of good roads and heartily commend the chamber of commerce in all their efforts to bring this important subject to the minds of the people."

Senator Owen Proposes Censorship Bill.

ROBERT L. OWEN.

A move toward censorship of newspapers was made in the United States Senate when Senator Robert L. Owen, Democrat, of Oklahoma, introduced a bill giving the Postmaster-General authority to bar newspapers from the mails if they refused to publish, "in precisely the same page and position, a correction, explanation or denial" offered by any person previously named in an article published in the paper.

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY VALLEY ICE DEALERS

With decision to rest with its newly elected board of directors the question of time and place of its next annual meeting, the Tennessee Valley Ice Association convention of Tuesday adjourned late last night. The officers elected for the ensuing year are: H. Kloepper, of Columbia, Tenn., president; Burrell Spragins, of Huntsville, vice president; W. E. Harlan, of Mt. Pleasant, Tenn., secretary treasurer. The board of directors chosen is as follows: T. J. Jones, chairman, Decatur; Foster Miller, Athens; and Paul T. Gish, Athens.

An informal dinner was served at the plant of the Decatur Ice and Coal company last evening. The sessions of the convention were at the same place.

MINERALS SOUGHT IN THIS TERRITORY

A number of inquiries have been made in letters directed to the Albany-Decatur chamber of commerce as to the location in this section of a number of minerals. "Bauxite" especially is being sought at this time. The secretary would appreciate any information leading to the location of this mineral.

Hugo Stinnes in Critical Condition

(Associated Press)
BERLIN, April 9—The condition of Hugo Stinnes took a serious turn for the worse this afternoon. The industrial magnate has been ill for some time and has been operated upon twice. The second operation came last Saturday.

CHURCH OF PROMISE IS PASTOR'S SUBJECT

Taking for his subject last night at the Central Methodist church revival "The Church of the Promise" Dr. James D. Hunter preached an eloquent and moving sermon to a large congregation. At the close a number came forward during the altar service in token of their desire to unite with some church, bringing the number of converts during the revival to over twenty.

In addition to the appointments for the several meetings of the revival already announced, it was stated that the "Intermediates" would meet in the Sunday School room in the future at 6:45 o'clock p. m.

The following additional announcements were made for the present week:

Wednesday night "Home Night" at church.

Thursday night "Business Night" at church.

Friday night "High School Night" at church.

The nursery for small children 3 years old and under is under the direction of Mrs. C. J. Randolph, in the church Sunday School room.

Personal workers are to meet every evening at 7 o'clock.

Noon luncheons every day for business women at the Y. M. C. A., in charge of Mrs. Edith Hayes Meigs.

Shop meetings each noon. And in the afternoons at 3 o'clock Mrs. Meigs has "Bible Story Hour" and directed play for children 12 years old and under, at the church.

A rousing song service was led by Mr. Makin, the evangelistic singer, at the opening of the revival last night. Such hymns as: "Jesus is all the world to me," "I am Thine Oh Lord," "Take the name of Jesus with you" and other similar hymns were sung, the large congregation joining in heartily.

The highest standards were held up to his hearers when Dr. Hunter described his conception of "The church." Some of the sayings of the preacher were as follows:

"A religious man should contribute something of value to his community."

"When Jesus speaks to men he renews their spirits."

"His power of life transformation is greater than the miracle of turning water into wine."

"John would have called down fire from above on unbelievers; the Savior approaches sinners as He did the little children."

"Christ's little band of followers have grown until they are like a harbor of safety to the world."

"Better not get away from the original power that transforms life."

"The church has meant much to my life and kept my feet from slipping into the bypaths."

"Back of and beyond all fraternal orders Christ's church and His teachings."

"Why do you think our land is Christian, when more than half of its millions have no faith in God?"

"We must have God's program in the heart."

"They took knowledge of the early disciples, that they had been with Jesus."

"Why did you fall out of bed; too close to the edge. Those who get too close to the evil of the world fall off."

WHY BANKS?

REVIEW

By J. H. PUELICHER, Chairman,
Committee on Public Education, American Bankers Association.

Those who have been reading these lessons have found banks to be semi-public corporations, chartered, regulated, and examined by State or Nation, but owned by private stockholders.

We found that banks: 1. Receive deposits, 2. Make loans.

We found deposits to be of two kinds— 1. Savings Deposits, 2. Commercial Deposits.

We found that interest is paid on Savings Deposits; that the people's savings loaned by banks to farmers, merchants, manufacturers, produce wages and profits, which make more savings.

J. H. Puelicher

We found that were it not for the savings of the past, there could not be capital with which to build schools, railroads, ships, telephone and telegraph lines, factories, and the many things which are a part of civilization.

We found that the banker pays the savings depositor interest for the use of his savings and that he loans these to business but charges business more interest than he pays the saver, so that he could pay his overhead expenses, absorb occasional losses and pay dividends.

We found that bank stock is sold in order to provide capital for the establishing of the bank; that a stockholder in a bank is compelled to pay, in case the bank should fail and the assets not be enough to pay depositors, an amount up to 100 per cent of his stock; that anyone who is able to buy and willing to assume the risk, may purchase bank stock when it is for sale; and that the banks of America are owned by many men and women scattered throughout the country, who have purchased bank stock.

We found that banks render in these ways essential economic services to their communities.

The plan of the committee embodies this principle.

"The plan has been made to include flexible adjustments which from the very beginning tend to produce a maximum of contributions consistent with the continued and increasing productivity of Germany; the conservative estimates of payments to be made in the near future are dictated by business prudence in outlining the basis of a loan and should not destroy the perspective as to the effects to be registered in the aggregate of eventual payments which will annually increase.

"With normal economic conditions and with productivity restored in Germany, the most hopeful estimates of the amounts receivable are justified. Without such restoration, such payments as may be obtained will be of little value in meeting urgent needs of creditor nations."

That's the idea.

You can't bear another man's sorrows; you can only jolly him up by bearing them easier.

Dr. L. C. Havens, of the Alabama board of health, whose headquarters are in Montgomery, is making a tour of inspection of the health units at several points in North Alabama. Dr. Havens stated that there was now enough state and national aid money for the health work for one more county in this section to set up a health unit. Jackson and Culman Counties are expected to establish health units it is said.

There is one thing about Hiram Johnson—he can get madder than most mortals do.

The best men, if not the wisest ones, know the world through their hearts rather than through their minds.

Many honest people would leave a stronger impression as to their sincerity, if they were less skeptical of the honesty of others.

Now it seems the nomination of Mr. Coolidge is a foregone conclusion, the question naturally arises, will the fact that Calvin is politically prosperous have a tendency to cause him to ignore the value of the Ford bid for Muscle Shoals.

LOOKING OUT FOR THE BEAUTY OF THE COUNTRY

As a kind of by-product of the good roads movement in California great interest has been aroused in that state for roadside views that will be clear of ugly advertising signs. Lately the Standard Oil Company of California has decided to eliminate its own advertising signs along the roads of all the Pacific states.

It is also announced that the Standard Oil Company of New York state will follow the same policy. It is reported that H. L. Pratt, president of that company, in 18 months time will cease to advertise gasoline on bill boards all along the highways. Mr. Pratt also says that it is the desire of his company "to co-operate with woman's clubs and various other organizations" that seek to add to rather than detract from the natural beauty of the highways. W. L. Lawton, chairman of the National Committee for the Restriction of Outdoor Advertising, has given out a list of large business concerns that pledge themselves to remove such signs as "mar the scenic effect of American countrysides."

Some of the firms on that list are: Hood Rubber Company, Ajax Rubber Company, Ward Banking Company, Dodge Brothers, Gulf Refining Co., Kirkman and Son, soap; Kelly-Springfeld Tire Company, Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, Washburn-Crosby Company, B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company, Sun Oil Company.

These companies doubtless figure that however good a sign is, unless people along the roads want to see them there the signs will not look good. They may also realize that travelers as a rule don't want to have shop talked with them from bill boards.

But of course the motive of the woman's organizations in opposing roadway advertising is that it spoils the beauty of the landscape.

In other words, "pride of appearance" is asserting its self against ugly sign boards and their presence where they hide beautiful scenery.

SOME RADIO PROBLEMS

Secretary Hoover told the House committee on merchant marine the other day that, in spite of the rapid progress made within the last few years,
"we are probably only at the threshold of the development of one of the most important human discoveries." But, despite the strides already made and the bright prospect for the future, the radio situation is in some respects far from satisfactory to those who are promoting it with the capital. They have all the major problems of a full-grown money-making industry with but few of the compensating advantages.

Admitting that a radio industry is assured, there is yet no assurance as to the field it will ultimately occupy. A decade ago the radio was employed almost exclusively as a telegraphic means of communication, particularly with ships. There were no broadcasting stations in the United States, and the place which radio has now taken as an agency of amusement and education had scarcely been dreamed of. Producers of equipment frankly admit that they can not yet be certain that the present interest in radio for these purposes will be sustained or that still other and perhaps more important fields of employment will not presently develop demanding apparatus of a different type and consequently new investments, with probably heavy losses of capital sunk in the development of those branches of the industry which now command wide attention.

But the uncertainty of the future is not the only problem. The difficulties of the present are real enough and in many respects as serious as those confronted by well established projects with years of experience behind them and good surpluses to fall back upon. There is, for instance, the problem of labor, the labor of broadcasting.
The industry is wholly dependent upon the broadcasters, who, by refusing to go to work, could tie up every receiving set in the country. On the capital side is the problem of monopoly, and that of the exclusive right of the inventor to the product of his labor and his discovery under our patent laws, whereas from the public point of view radio communication is already regarded as a matter of quasi public concern in which interruption of "service" and the exaction of monopoly charges ought not to be permitted.

Until the future of the industry is better understood and its field of service more clearly defined, the promoters of the industry, the manufacturers of the apparatus, will do the worrying. The audience estimated now at close to 20,000,000 and constantly increasing, will continue to tune in and hope for the best.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

RULES FOR STUMP SPEAKING

Announcement by one of the political parties of the establishment of a training school to coach women workers in practical politics has created additional interest among women participants in the campaign since it became known that there will be a department to prepare women for appearance on the stump. Up to recently spellbinding has been monopolized by men folks; but more and more since obtaining equal rights in matters political, women are taking active part in campaign work, and some of them have earned distinction as stump speakers.

One of the instructors in the training school for female campaigners, herself a woman who studied methods and effects in many hot races for office, laid down some general rules by way of warning which appear to be worthy of observance:

- Don't yell at your audience.
- Don't talk to the front row.
- Don't refer to your lack of time.
- Don't knock the other party; tell the good things about your own party.

There is a deal of good advice in all four of these danger signals. Number one pre-supposes that the average voter is not profoundly impressed with thundering noises from hog-calling voices; but prefers something to think about served in more conservative fashion. Number two sounds a warning against a common nuisance. The front row is usually taken by those who are apt to be convinced without further argument and may be relied on for applause before the speaker has expressed his appreciation of "this large and intelligent audience." Skeptics and hecklers usually occupy seats further back, and they are the ones who need special consideration. Number three is well worthy of adoption. The speaker who has something to say, rather than the one who has to say something, will not be begrudged sufficient time in which to say it. Number four is becoming more and more adapted to conditions and circumstances. Sheer partisanship is fast giving place to independence of thought and action in politics, and voters demand reasons why they should support candidates and measures rather than why they should desert rival candidates and opposing measures. All women speakers cannot be personally bewitching. Hence many must rely on reason and effective presentation of their message rather than upon hypnotizing effects of their charms to round up the voters.

All four of the warnings carry sound advice for campaign speakers, regardless of sex or party affiliations. Spell-binding compromising sweeping promises incapable of fulfillment and no responsibility on the part of the spell-binder whether they are kept or not, makes comparatively little impression on the average voter these days. He demands something besides denunciation, gesticulation and perspiration on the stump.

FURTHER INQUIRY INTO 'DEALS' MADE

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 9—Further inquiry into reports of deals at the republican national convention in Chicago in 1920 was made today in the senate by the oil committee.

A. B. Baughan, of Harlingen, Texas, formerly an oil operator of Oklahoma testified that the late Jake L. Hamon republican national committeeman of Oklahoma, told him that "He had signed the check" that resulted in the nomination of Warren G. Harding.

This conversation took place after the Chicago convention Baughan said.
He quoted Hamon as saying he would spend a million dollars, if necessary to put Oklahoma in the republican columns in the general election.

Heads of Pair of Dogs Examined

Lately two dogs were killed because they were thought mad, one at Athens and the other at Tuscombina, and their heads were later sent to the Tennessee Valley Laboratory for examination.

Dr. Perolio, the director, stated that as the brains of one of the dogs were so completely shot away, and because the head of the other dog had been buried some days and was then dug up and sent, it would be impossible to make tests in either case for rabies.

The director said that in no case should dogs be shot through their heads when thought mad, as it was absolutely necessary for the brains to be present. He added that the best way to secure a positive or negative test as to hydrophobia was for the dogs suspected of having that disease to be confined until they died.

Made a Hit With Him

"My wife has taken your medicine and has been wonderfully benefitted.
For over four years she has had trouble with bloating and could scarcely eat any food because of this condition. Doctor's medicines did not help her and an operation was advised. Her brother, who is a druggist, sent her a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy and it helped her at once. I cannot praise your medicine enough." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE HEADS CAST IN THRILLING GOOD ROADS PICTURE AT THE PRINCESS THEATRE

President Coolidge, members of the Highway Educational Board and the hero of the play, in a scene from "The Road to Happiness," the new picture produced by the Ford Motion Picture Laboratory in co-operation with the Bureau of Public Roads for the purpose of promoting interest in better highways.

The following statement regarding the picture was made public today by the chamber of commerce:

Of all the pictures, depicting the every phase of the road situation, the one, "The Road to Happiness," just shown at the Princess is the most striking and brings home more clearly and directly the necessity for the general need of a comprehensive program of roads, properly constructed and adequately maintained.

The good roads question to my mind, is the most important of our economic welfare, and its many and varied phases relates to and affects every individual and each community.

"The Road to Happiness" shows vividly among other points, that better roads allow a wider choice of marketing for farm products and for purchasing supplies.

Good roads conserve the farmer's energy, both mental and physical, and give him greater incentive to conceive and execute plans for development. Good roads promote good schools in the country and make the town schools more accessible to the country children. Good roads make for better churches and better morality and promote better living conditions in the country, improve social conditions and make possible the work of the "social centers" and other similar movements. And, last but not least, they make for a broader outlook and a better citizenship in every phase of life.

These are but a few of the points one learns from the showing of the picture this morning.

We are paying a "bad roads tax" and so it is commonly thought that bad roads do not cost anything in actual money and that it is as cheap to have bad roads; this is not true. As a matter of fact, it frequently, if not always, costs the users of a road more money to have a bad road than it does to have a good road.

It is said that the hope of the Nation rests with the country schools: The little one room, one teacher country school with its small number of children, shabby building, poor equipment and limited length of term has done wonderfully well, but when that is said all is said, because the limit is very soon reached. Our country boys and girls, under present circumstances, cannot obtain even a high school education without being sent away from home to get it.

There can be no doubt that the hope of our country schools lies in concentrating several of the small district schools into one large school which will have enough pupils, and, therefore, enough of money and teachers, to organize a regular country high school.

We come to another important point that of the relationship of good roads to the churches. It usually does not take very much of an excuse for a man to stay away from church. If he lives several miles from church with a rough road stretching between, he certainly will not look for a better excuse. The pleasure and convenience of attending church when we have good roads would result in much better attendance and greater usefulness on the part of the churches, and not only would it secure better attendance at the churches, but good roads would have a tendency towards morality, throughout the community, whereas bad roads, such as exist in many communities, is a great incentive to promiscuity, to say nothing of any other forms of immorality.

Good roads puts us in immediate touch with everybody, everywhere. We can visit freely not only with the people in our own community but with people from far away. Good roads tend to obliterate distance and bring far away points closer together. In the "freedom of movement" on the broadening of our physical horizon it brings to every man a brighter mental horizon and is one of the most powerful influences in making a broader, more progressive, forward looking citizenship.

I cannot commend the picture, "The Road to Happiness" too highly, and in my judgment, it would be well worth the while of our everyone to witness the "freedom of movement" on the broadening of our physical horizon it brings to every man a brighter mental horizon and is one of the most powerful influences in making a broader, more progressive, forward looking citizenship.

THIS WOMAN WAS GIVEN UP TO DIE

Mrs. Gose Is Restored To Health After taking Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

"I was actually given up by the doctor, but here I am sound and well and all because of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup," said Mrs. Belle Gose, Route 1, Box 41, New Tazewell, Tenn.

"One year ago last March my health gave way and I had to take to my bed where I lay almost helpless. The doctor said I had dropsy of the kidneys and that my liver was dead and that there was no hope of my ever getting well. I suffered terrible and was unconscious part of the time.

"One day I remembered reading in Thacher's Almanac about Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup and sent for a bottle. I took five bottles and am now as well as I ever was in my life."

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold by all druggists and if you are not satisfied the purchase price will be refunded. Caddell Drug Co.—Advt.

MR. AND MRS. POLLY TICK.

A large and appreciative audience witnessed the laughable and entertaining play given at the College music hall last Friday evening under the direction of Miss Marjorie Raney.

It was one of the greatest successes that has been attempted by amateur talent in this city. Forty or more people and beautiful costumes and every line of the play interesting, made it a decided success. Miss Raney is a skilled director and she made it a perfect success. The chorus girls, gathered from our most attractive younger set, all of whom are graceful as well as beautiful, and the leading roles of the play being skillfully handled, made the evening one of genuine pleasure and netted the band a handsome sum.

The audience was given a real treat near the close of the performance when two beautiful little girls, one of Albany and one from Decatur, who have been studying under Miss Raney appeared before the footlights and gave one of the most interesting numbers of the evening. Little Miss Jane Irwin, eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Irwin of Decatur, and Little Miss Elizabeth George of Albany, were the two winsome little misses who sang and danced for the pleasure of the audience and they were encored time after time, and they showed wonderful training and poise, knowing just what to do after each encore. Miss Raney has cause to be proud of her two apt and attractive little pupils. —Athens Courier.

Many people will be glad to know that when "Mr. and Mrs. Polytick" will be presented here on Friday evening April 18th, at the Masonic theater under the auspices of Post H. Travelers Protective Association when these two talented little entertainers will appear between the acts. A local male quartet will also give several numbers.

The first anniversary of the Sunday school class was observed Tuesday evening, when Mrs. R. E. Wardlow and Mrs. W. M. Chenault were its hostesses. Papers and talks were given telling of the work in this class, and many words of appreciation were made to the faithful and competent teacher, Mrs. Wardlow.

The house was beautifully decorated with the class colors, Nile green and white. A large bowl of white carnations was arranged in the reception room. Contests were enjoyed, prizes being won by David Gibson and Mrs. David Gibson.

All were, then directed to the dining room where a birthday cake with 36 small candles, the number enrolled and one large candle, denoting the first anniversary, was divided by the class president, Mrs. Dillehay.

Ice cream was served with the cake, and after many affectionate toasts and expressions of loyalty to the class and to Central Baptist Sunday school, each guest was given a white carnation, and the meeting adjourned.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON BRIDGE CLUB.

Miss Sabine Dupont was hostess to the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge Club this week and the following supplemented at the game, Mrs. Martin Phelan, the house guest of Miss Dupont, Mrs. A. A. Hardage, and Miss Marjory Workman, who is visiting Mrs. H. B. Beard.

Mrs. Hardage was the lucky contestant at bridge and received the guest trophy while Mrs. Markstein was awarded the club prize.

Lovely refreshments were enjoyed late in the afternoon.

FOUR GENERATIONS

Texas Lady Says Her Family Has Been Taking Theodora's Black-Draught, When Needed, for Many Years.

Alto, Texas.—"We inherited the use of Black-Draught in our family," says Mrs. Mary Shippine, who lives near here on R. F. D. 2. "My grandmother was an old woman when she died about ten years ago, and she had been using it literally ever since I can remember. She gave it to her children and grandchildren for biliousness and stomach complaints, so when I went to housekeeping we just naturally used it, too."

"I give it to my children for a purgative whenever they need one, and we are never without it. Made into tea, it surely is fine. It's the best home remedy for headache and constipation I know of."

During over 80 years of its continued popularity, Black-Draught has become the standard liver medicine in many thousands of homes, where it has been found of great benefit in the treatment of constipation, biliousness, indigestion and other common liver, stomach and bowel complaints. Ten million packages of Black-Draught are now sold a year, as more and more people are learning of the value of this well-known remedy.

Insist on Theodora's, the only genuine Black-Draught powdered liver medicine. At all dealers. NC-154

WILL MAKE STUDY OF HAY MARKETING

Special to The Daily
AUBURN, Ala., April 9.—Satisfactory progress on work preparatory to the establishment of Federal grades for Johnson grass hay is being made. With Edward Parker, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, K. G. Baker, marketing specialist for the extension service, will make a study for hay marketing in Atlanta, Birmingham, and Montgomery, next week. Immediately thereafter a Johnson grass hay laboratory will be opened here. A detailed study of all kinds of Johnson grass hay will be made and the facts will be taken into consideration in the establishment of grades.

According to Mr. Baker, producers, dealers and consumers of Johnson hay in Alabama are fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Parker, who is thoroughly informed about hay of different kinds and who took a prominent part in establishing federal grades for timothy, which is the only hay having federal grades at present.

How Sturgeon Invented the Electro-Magnet

A hundred years ago the electro-magnet was born. Its inventor was William Sturgeon, a soldier at Woolwich, near London. As a lad he followed his father's trade as a shoemaker, and he never regretted it, for shoemaking taught him to use his eyes and fingers with uncommon power. In hours of leisure he was fond of experiment. He noticed that soft iron was magnetic only while in contact with a steel magnet. When he severed them the soft iron instantly lost its attraction. It occurred to him to place a core of soft iron within an electric coil. At once that core became a magnet of uncommon strength. When he broke the current the magnetism of the soft iron vanished. He created the electro-magnet.

The American physicist, Joseph Henry, greatly improved the device of Sturgeon. That inventor had wound only one coil of copper wire around his iron core, using varnish on the iron as a means of insulation. Henry surrounded the coil with several close coils covered with silk thread, obtaining a much more powerful magnet than that of Sturgeon. From the very beginning of telegraphy the electro-magnet has been the very heart of the apparatus. A momentary current is received from a distant station in a coil of copper wire; that instant its soft iron core becomes a magnet, and in attracting its armature gives a signal.

In telephones as well as in telegraphs, in dynamos and motors, in automatic printers and a host of other inventions, electro-magnets command motion and rest instantly, strongly and dependably.

Seeing by Wireless Is Near, Says a Scientist

Edmund Edward Fournier-d'Albe, inventor of the optophone, which enables the blind to read through their ears, and the tonoscope, which makes speech intelligible to the deaf, has added his prophecy to those of other scientists who recently have forecast the early achievement of television—seeing by wireless. Dr. Fournier-d'Albe consented to be quoted as saying: "I believe television will be accomplished this year. I'll stake my whole scientific reputation on it—I'm certain of it."

He envisages a time a few years hence, says the New York World, when explorers equipped with television cameras will make possible the projection on moving picture screens in European and American cities the scenes attending their climbs, say of Mount Everest, or their polar explorations, or even the examination of the ocean's floor by means of submarines. Doctor Fournier-d'Albe is credited with sending the first photograph by radio.

Got His Advance Tip

A man who was in the habit of dining regularly at a certain restaurant said to the waiter, "John, instead of tipping you every day, I'm going to give it to you in a lump sum at the end of every month."

"Thank you, sir," replied the waiter, "but I wonder if you'd mind paying me in advance?"
"Well, it's rather strange," remarked the patron. "However, here's five shillings. I suppose you are in want of money, or is it that you distrust me?"
"Oh, no, sir," smiled John, slipping the money in his pocket. "Only I'm leaving here today."

One of Many

Probably there isn't a physician who doesn't have a few charity patients as well as those who can, and do, pay their bills, and one of these gave a good laugh to the attending nurses at the hospital.

"I'm very grateful for what you have done for me, doctor," said the woman, adding, "I pray for you every night!"
"Why, that's very nice of you to think of me like that, Mrs. Blank," said the doctor, highly gratified.

"Lord, sir, it ain't a bit of trouble," replied the woman affably. "It ain't a bit of trouble to put your name in along with the others."

Good Evidence.

"Within the Law"

Amusements

What the Press Agents Say

Norma Talmadge makes a spectacular attempt to commit suicide by throwing herself into the river in her latest first National feature production, "Within the Law," which is said to be the most exciting and dramatic picture of the kind yet made by the popular star.

Miss Talmadge portrays Mary Turner, a shop girl sent to prison for a department store theft.

Innocent. After serving her sentence she seeks employment in New York but always she is turned down, with the police constantly hounding her. Discouraged, she tries drowning and is rescued by Joe Garson, a forger, who with Aggie Lynch, a former prison companion, induces her to join a gang of blackmailers.

Always, however, does Mary keep "within the law" and this leads to one of the most amazing dramatic romances ever brought to the screen.

Jack Mulhall appears opposite Miss Talmadge as Dick Gilder, selected as one of Mary Turner's "victims" in the exercise of her specialty—breach of promise suits.

Other important parts are played by Lew Cody, Eileen Percy, DeWitt Jennings, Lincoln Plummer, Joseph Kilgour, Helen Ferguson and Ward Crane. Princess today and Thursday.

At the Masonic on Saturday, April 12, J. A. Coburn's Minstrels in its twenty-fifth year is said to be the biggest and best company he has ever assembled. You know the show and its long record as one of the best in modern and oldtime minstrel fun, comedy, music and fine singing. "Coburn" does not bill himself as a Minstrel Monarch nor his company as all star world beaters. He gives you a real shoppay full of pep and enjoyable performance entirely new and different every sea-

Valley Bankers in Session Today

A large number of bankers of the Tennessee Valley were here for a short time today on their way to Sheffield where they attended a district convention of the Tennessee Valley division of the Alabama Bankers' association.

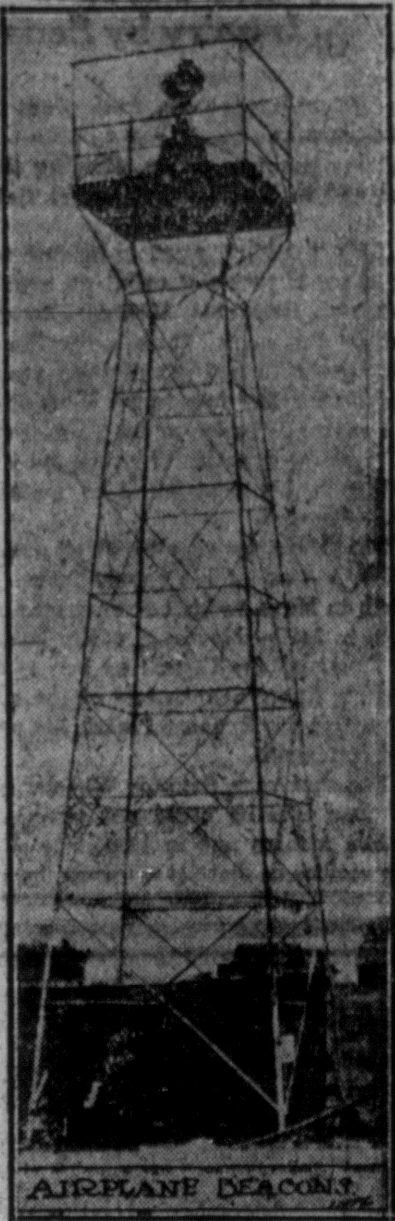

It was stated that the state gathering of Alabama bankers will be held in Birmingham about May 15, and that the Sheffield meeting is a kind of preliminary conference where Valley bankers will formulate any plans of policies they may desire to call to the attention of the state organization's convention in Birmingham.

One Vice President of the state Association will be nominated at Sheffield, and his election will be made at the May meeting in Birmingham.

New Beacon Guides Airships at Night.

Above is shown one of the beacon lights that have been placed every 100 miles along the 900-mile stretch between Chicago and Cheyenne, Wyo., to guide airships carrying United States mails between New York and San Francisco. With the installation of the 24-hour air service, it became necessary to fly that distance at night. The beacons, 50 in number, revolve six times a minute and under normal weather conditions the flames can be seen 40 miles.

Moulton News

Under the direction of Miss Olive Suttles, home economics teacher in the Lawrence County High school the second year class entertained the graduating class of the school with a banquet Saturday night. Covers were laid for eighty on tables extending the full length of the hall in the high school building and including the members of the faculty and other school officials as well as the members of the two classes: five courses were served interspersed with toasts from various students and others, Dick Sively of the sophomore class presided as toastmaster. The decorative scheme was by far the most attractive ever used in any high school banquet here. The walls of the hall were artistic with smilax gathered out near Mountain Home north of Moulton. The class colors green and gold were woven in and around the smilax and the lights. Two solos were rendered by Miss Erlene Rogers, music director in the high school.

James Barrett, an aged and respected citizen of near Landersville was buried Sunday afternoon at the Landersville cemetery. He was about eighty years of age and had spent most of his life near the place of his death. He leaves a large number of relatives in Lawrence county and elsewhere among them being the former mayor of Birmingham, W. W. Barrett who was born in this county.

L. P. Kneipp of Washington, D. C. is in Moulton on business for a few days this week; he is Assistant Director of the Forestry Department and is here in the interest of the Alabama Forest Reservation.

W. C. Hamilton, for sixteen years or more tax assessor of Lawrence county was buried Monday noon at the Shiloh cemetery at Moulton after funeral services at the Methodist church conducted by Dr. W. P. McGowan, presiding elder of Decatur district, assisted by the local pastor. Mr. Hamilton was sixty-three years of age and had spent the better part of his life in and around Moulton. He was well known as a citizen throughout the county and numbered friends by the hundreds. For the past few months he has been a member of the Lawrence county board of education and has also been in business in Moulton. Mr. Hamilton leaves a wife, six children and a sister, Mrs. Grimes of near Courtland. The children are Mrs. E. Smith, Eugene, living at Camden, Arkansas and David, Prentice, James, and George all living near Moulton.

Robert Montgomery of out near Moulton had the misfortune to lose his barn by fire last Wednesday night about two o'clock. Origin of the fire is supposed to be incendiary. He lost several valuable mules, farm tools, and feed stuffs. In the week also Crite Early of near Morris Chapel, lost his home and household effects.

S.S.S. thoroughly rids the body of Rheumatic Impurities.

The wrong idea about rheumatism for 15 years. I didn't realize that increasing blood-cells had the effect of completely knocking out rheumatic impurities from the system. That is why I began using S. S. S. Say what you will, I never knew such startling results were possible. Well, folks, because knocking out my rheumatism I gave me back some of the strength I used to have way back! I've got a better color in my face, my appetite is dandy, I don't use my crutches any more, I'm walking around straight up on two young legs! S. S. S. makes people talk about themselves the way it builds up their strength. By building blood-cells it builds nerve strength for young folks who ought to have more, and for older people who have little. It cures pimples, boils, skin-itch, eczema, chasms away blood impurities. You can always rely on it. Start S. S. S. today for that rheumatism. You'll feel the difference shortly. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size is more economical.

Thousand Dollars Sent to Capital

A thousand of the fifteen hundred dollars due to be sent from Albany and Decatur to officials of the Tennessee River Improvement Association at Washington has been sent forward, it was announced at the office of the Albany-Decatur chamber of commerce. In speaking of the probability of the entire quota of $1,500 being raised soon, Clyde Hendrix, vice president of the association, stated that a good share of the $500 still due had been subscribed, and added that he saw no reason why the whole amount should not be ready in a few days.

ATLANTA WOMAN GAINS 35 POUNDS ON TANLAC

"If I Had Only Taken Tanlac In the Beginning, What Suffering And Money It Would Have Saved Me."

"If I had only taken Tanlac in the beginning, what suffering, and money, too, it would have saved me," recently said Mrs. Francis C. Epps, esteemed resident of 428 Windsor Street, Atlanta, Ga.

"Why, I was so weak and thin when I did take Tanlac that I weighed only ninety-three pounds, but this grand medicine gave me such a splendid appetite and digestion that I now weigh one hundred and twenty-eight, a gain of thirty-five pounds.

"For over a year, I was dreadfully run-down and suffered so terribly from indigestion. I never enjoyed a meal. The gas, pains, short breath, and palpitation made me miserable and I felt nervous and worn out all the time.

"The change Tanlac made in me was amazing. The first few doses helped me and when I finished the treatment I was enjoying splendid health. I have also given Tanlac to my children, with fine results."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Would You Destroy These?

Mining, Manufacturing and Agriculture are the basic industries of the nation. The progress and prosperity, yea the very existence of each and all of these, hinge on adequate transportation—of which the railroads furnish the greater part.

Mining

Manufacturing

Those who thru ignorance and prejudice or from other motives, seek to further hamper the railroads by radical and destructive legislation, would at the same time undermine the very foundation of our basic industries. Destroy our railroad systems and you destroy Mining, Manufacturing and Agriculture. Impair the efficiency of the railroad systems and you retard the development and progress of these and all other sources of the country's economic well-being. Study the facts and you will find that it is to your interest to give the railroads fair play.

Wounded Negro Still Alive Today

Ed Mitchell the negro who was shot and wounded recently was still living today. Officer Ben Poole of the sheriff's office at an early hour today placed Janie Taylor, a negro woman in the county jail where she is held in connection with the wounding of Mitchell by a pistol shot.

Officer Poole state that he arrested the Taylor woman at the home of another negro a few miles south of Albany at 3 o'clock this morning.

Officers declare that Janie Taylor made a statement acknowledging that she was the person who shot Mitchell, and that the shooting was done with an automatic pistol. The woman added to her statement that Mitchell jumped very high when he was shot.

ATTORNEY GENERAL PROMISES JUSTICE

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 9.—Harlan F. Stone, of New York, taking up the post of Attorney General today announced his policy the keeping of the nation "in the straight paths of justice under the law."

He proposed, he said, to make the constitution and the laws the shield of the innocent but the swift avenger of the guilty.

NEW YORK, April 9.—John Sexton who was born right here on Manhattan Island, in Charles Street, just cannot understand people who come here way off from Albany and San Francisco and places like that and spend so much time looking about Broadway and that white lighted section of our town. John has lived here all of his forty years and has never yet stepped north of Twenty-Third street. He thinks it's "silly" to bother about what is happening up about Times Square. "That ain't New York," he says. "The real New York is down here where I live, with a bit of the Bowery for its gay side." He works at the Salvation Army hotel in the Bowery, so he wouldn't be supposed to see the brightest part of that section's life, at that.

If there remains anyone who believes that women's clubs fritter their time uselessly, they should have come to the bazaar just held by the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs and learned his lesson for all time. Back in 1909 the Federation built a hotel for girls on small earnings, where they have been housing and feeding six girls at a time, with a constant waiting list, ever since, and so a week apiece. Anyone who knows New York living costs, recognizes the achievement in that, and there has never been a deficit in the running expenses. Now they want a larger building, with room for 300 or 400 girls, and they are raising the needed $150,000. This bazaar was for the purpose and was splendidly successful but the notable feature was the incomparable way in which 1,000 women on the committees worked together. It was an example for any organization in the world, and a final answer to the sceptics on the question of women's getting along together in peace. Mrs. Louis Ralston, who was chairman of the committee and who is as remarkable as the work she has done, might well give lessons in strategy and diplomacy to governments of the world, I would say.

The office world will be run almost entirely by women within five or ten years, according to J. E. Gray, assistant general manager of the National Employment Exchange, which has been meeting in convention here. Among the problems discussed were bobbed hair, powder puffs, equal pay, time clocks and fainting spells, and most serious altogether of them—husbands. The question of husbands. The question of husbands and a ban against them received the most attention. Personnel managers differed hotly on whether a married woman was more efficient and attended to business better than those unmarried or whether the thought of a husband due home promptly and expecting dinner with equal promptness interfered with the last rush of the day's work. The number of women who give their maiden names when applying for positions and keeping their marriage status a thing of no concern to their business associates is increasing every day, it was agreed.

For three years, Nicholas Ritumano had not seen the light of day until he was arrested and taken forth from a subway station this week. The subway has been his home in all that time, much as if he were a mole. He has slept there, eaten there and carried on his business there. His business was gathering up discarded paper which he took out at night every few days and sold to dealers at $1.50 for 100 pounds. When he was finally taken up by a subway guard, he showed a bankbook with deposits untouched between $5,000 and $6,000.

We are indeed a cosmopolitan city, but nevertheless passersby were surprised to hear a raging controversy at Times Square between an Irish policeman and a giant negro, carried on entirely in Yiddish. At the police station, Officer Patrick Frawley explained that his regular beat was on the lower East Side and that he had grown accustomed to talking Yiddish whenever he was on duty, while the negro stated that he was born in Palestine and had never dropped the speech of his native land.

became business rivals, dividing their acreage in the Kevin-Sunburst field.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Rising to a question of personal privilege, senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, denounced on the senate floor today the indictment returned against him yesterday by a grand jury in his home state.

Senator Wheeler spoke to a crowded senate, practically every member being in his seat and the galleries were jammed.

The Montana senator first gave a brief resume of his career from his birth in Mass. to his entrance into politics in Butte, Montana, where he said he incurred the ill-will of one of the largest financial interests of the state by voting for Senator Walsh, his present colleague.

For that vote, Senator Wheeler said he was told he could not remain in public affairs nor in the state. During service as district attorney, he said

"it became my duty to prosecute some prominent politicians, both republicans and democrats, and to vote certain officials for contempt on charges of tampering with a jury."

One of these officials, he said, later became associated with a large cooper company and from "that point on has been active in opposing me."

While in office, Senator Wheeler said "I found it incumbent to prosecute graft and corruption and here I find myself in the department of justice investigation. As a result I find myself today standing indicted."

"This indictment," he said, "is part of one of the most damnable conspiracies ever consummated in the United States."

The foreman of the Montana grand jury was described by Senator Wheeler as "the bitterest political enemy I have."

"The man who presented the evidence to the jury," he added, "had recently sought his (Wheeler's) aid in an appointment."
